Torchon Pendant

Designer- Cheshire Architects / Year 2015

Torchon is a unique lighting spectacle, which exploits the viscous potential of molten glass, and the contradictory nature of smooth and rough textures. On the outside, a soft spherical globe of clear glass is carefully mouth-formed. Then a jagged internal cavity is created to house a disc of high quality LED light, which encapsulates and projects onto exterior surfaces. Torchon is suspended from the ceiling rose with a pair of slim lined wires. Available in Clear Glass

Handmade in New Zealand.
